Rector's Message

Dear Readers,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you all to the latest edition of the Police Staff College Bangladesh Newsletter. As we delve into the contents of this edition, we reflect on the remarkable strides and accomplishments that our institution has achieved over the past months. I am proud to announce that Police Staff College Bangladesh actively participated in the 12th Annual INTERPA Conference and the 24th Executive Board Meeting & General Council Meeting of INTERPA. This prestigious event, hosted by the National Forensic Sciences University, India, provided a platform for collaboration and exchange of ideas among international law enforcement agencies.

We organized multiple workshops on curriculum development of Smart Policing and Training on Smart Policing for Police Inspectors. These initiatives not only enhance the skill set of our officers but also ensure our readiness to adapt to evolving challenges in law enforcement in line with the government's Smart Bangladesh initiative. The successful completion of the 7th General Administration and Financial Management Certificate Course for Additional Superintendents of Police underscores our dedication to professional development and capacity building within our ranks.

We were privileged to host Dr. Michael Jenkins, an esteemed international scholar of Criminal Justice, who conducted a workshop on "Crime Analysis as a Force Multiplier." His insights and expertise have undoubtedly enriched our understanding of crime prevention strategies. The Academic Wing's efforts in curriculum development for our current Master's program and upcoming Post Graduate Diploma (PGD) programs reflect our commitment to academic excellence and relevance in contemporary policing practices.

Throughout the period, our in-house events aimed at exploring new horizons of work have been instrumental in fostering a culture of innovation and collaboration among our staff. As we continue our journey towards excellence, let us remain steadfast in our commitment to serving our communities with integrity, professionalism, and dedication.

Warm regards,

Dr. Mallick Faqrul Islam, BPM, PPM

Rector

IPRIC begins its journey

The International Police Research & Innovation Centre (IPRIC) is a research centre that aims to bridge the gap between people and police through generating high quality research and data. Its mission is to conduct police research and work on innovative police issues through trained professionals, experts and academia. It aims to shape the future of the police professionals through the advancement of research and innovation.

Dr. Mallick Faqurul Islam, BPM, PPM, Rector of PSC speaking at the inauguration ceremony of IPRIC

The Centre was inaugurated on July 3, 2024 by Inspector General of Police, Bangladesh, Mr. Chowdhury Abdullah Al-Mamun, BPM (Bar), PPM. The event began with a presentation by Mr. Md. Golam Rasul, MDS (Academic) of the college, who outlined the aims, objectives, and working areas of the center. The presentation highlighted the center's potential to advance research and innovation within the Bangladesh Police, in collaboration with the international research community. IPRIC aims to promote science and technology-based public safety by fostering collaborative relationships between researchers, academics, and police personnel.

In his speech, the Chief Guest described the establishment of IPRIC as a timely initiative in the current global context. He emphasized that innovation and research are essential to addressing contemporary policing challenges. He expressed optimism that the center would play a crucial role in integrating modern research with field-level policing, thereby enhancing the effectiveness of the Bangladesh Police.

Dr. Mallick Faqrul Islam, BPM, PPM, Rector of PSC, remarked that the establishment of IPRIC marks the beginning of an international research institute dedicated to facilitating research, innovation, and technology in policing both in Bangladesh and globally. He noted that the Police Staff College Bangladesh is already collaborating with various domestic and international institutions, and the establishment of IPRIC has opened new avenues for cooperation and coordination. The event was attended by additional IGPs of Bangladesh Police, teachers and researchers from various universities, and development officers from various units of the Bangladesh Police.

IPRIC's areas of research include the following:

- Smart Policing & Contemporary Policing Practices
- Artificial Intelligence and Advanced Technology
- Juvenile delinquency and gang culture
- ICT, social media, cybercrime and cyber security
- Community policing & beat policing
- Innovation and global best practices in police work
- Mega Project Security & its impact on socio-economic development
- Financial crime & future crime analysis
- Human trafficking, arms trafficking and other Transnational crime
- Environmental crime and protection of wildlife

One of the key work areas of the Centre is to promote creative and innovative solutions to facilitate cutting-edge training and research. By bringing together experts from a wide range of backgrounds, IPRIC will develop contemporary, creative solutions to challenges in policing and preparing police to fight against technology-enabled threats. It will also facilitate leadership development process and connect law enforcement, academia and private sector partners to exchange knowledge and explore new technologies and emerging threats.

It is hoped that IPRIC will take forth PSC's endeavor for excellence to develop and promote innovation in police work.

Signing Ceremony of MoU with University of Asia Pacific

Through the MoUs, both parties committed to working together more closely towards the common goals of the institutes. Each side will pursue many significant activities, such as the promotion of educational and academic exchange, the promotion of study opportunities such as guest lectures, faculty development, study tours, joint trainings and research works.

The constant efforts to enhance collaboration with national and international partners is a testament to PSC's endeavor for excellence. These efforts represent significant steps forward to achieving excellence in our areas of work. With constant, continuous and dedicated efforts, PSC and partner organizations can hope to foster mutual cooperation and to enhance bilateral collaboration for growth and development. Partnership and collaboration can facilitate development in teaching, research and academics - all paving the way forward for our joint endeavour for excellence.

Post Graduate Diploma in Cyber Security begins at PSC

The inauguration ceremony of the first batch of the Postgraduate Diploma (PGD) in Cybersecurity Course took place at Police Staff College Bangladesh on March 23, 2024. This course is designed to emphasize the importance of building a smart police force, aligning with national directives aimed at enhancing law enforcement capabilities in a rapidly advancing technological landscape. It represents a significant step toward the government's vision of a prosperous and technologically advanced nation. By equipping officers with the necessary skills in cybersecurity, this initiative aims to develop a highly skilled workforce, essential for addressing the challenges of the future.

The PGD course aims to develop police officers capable of managing cybercrime by equipping them with essential knowledge and skills in cybersecurity. He mentioned that the course is designed to foster an effective partnership between the police force and society in ensuring the cybersecurity of a smart economy. Officers from the rank of Police Inspector to DIG are participating in the course.

Participants and Guests at the inauguration ceremony of the Post Graduate Diploma in Cyber Security

The respected guests emphasized the vital role this PGD course can play in addressing the challenges of cybersecurity in the modern era. He praised the course's focus on practical skills, noting that it will empower Bangladesh Police personnel to face future challenges effectively. They remarked that this PGD course represents a significant step toward building a smart police force in a smart Bangladesh and commended the timeliness of the course in the current context.

Dr. Mallick Faqrul Islam, BPM, PPM, Rector of Police Staff College Bangladesh, added that the Postgraduate Diploma in Cybersecurity is part of the government's broader vision to build a digitally-enabled Bangladesh. He said that PSC is committed to enhancing the capabilities of Bangladesh Police to prepare for the upcoming challenges of the digital world and beyond. The inauguration of new PGD programs, including on Security Management, is also in the pipeline to bolster efforts in this regard. The Rector thanked the Academic Branch of the College, the Ministry of Home Affairs, Police Headquarters, and National University authorities for their support in launching the course.

Master of Applied Criminology and Police Management: 8th batch commences class

The “Master of Applied Criminology and Police Management” (MACPM) at Police Staff College Bangladesh, continues to advance with the inauguration of its 8th batch on 17 February 2024. This one-year Master’s program, conducted under the National University, commenced in the academic year 2015-2016. It is designed to enhance professional knowledge and skills in crime management. Alongside police officers, it is also open to individuals from other professions, including military officers, civil servants, lawyers, teachers, and development workers.

Additional Superintendents of Police receive training on general and financial management

Participants of the 8th GAFMCC with faculty members of PSC

The 8th General and Financial Management Certificate Course (GAFMCC) organized by Police Staff College Bangladesh took place from March 18, 2024, to May 2, 2024. This course was specifically designed for officers at the rank of Additional Superintendent of Police (Addl. SP), with a total of 21 participants. The program focused on developing the administrative and financial management skills of the officers, covering areas such as strategic planning, budgeting, resource management, and ethical leadership, essential for effective command and decision-making in law enforcement.

The course focused on equipping police officers with essential knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary for effective leadership and management. The course covered a wide range of topics, including strategic planning, budgeting, financial management, procurement procedures, and legal frameworks. Participants were trained in decision-making, problem-solving, and analytical skills to enhance their capabilities in managing resources and personnel effectively. The course also emphasized the importance of ethical behavior, integrity, and professionalism, fostering a positive attitude toward public service and the responsibilities of police leadership. Through interactive sessions, case studies, and practical exercises, the course aimed to develop well-rounded leaders who can navigate complex administrative and financial challenges while upholding the core values of the police force.

Two batches of ASPs graduate successfully in PSC course

The 6th Police Leadership and Management Certificate Course, held from January 28 to March 14, 2024, and the 7th Police Leadership and Management Certificate Course, conducted from July 14 to August 29, 2024, each saw the successful graduation of 19 participants. These courses were designed to enhance the leadership capabilities of police officers, focusing on strategic management, decision-making, and effective communication within law enforcement. Both batches completed the rigorous training, equipping them with the necessary skills and knowledge to excel in their leadership roles within the police force.

Both the graduating batches were comprised of participants from the 35th BCS (Police) batch. The participants were from District Police, Metropolitan Police, training centers and specialized units of Bangladesh Police. The Police Leadership and Management Certificate Course (PLMCC) is structured over a 7-week period, designed to comprehensively develop the leadership skills of Assistant Superintendents of Police. The course begins with 3 weeks of in-person, offline training at Police Staff College Bangladesh. This is followed by 3 weeks of online training and field attachment while stationed at their respective units. After completing these sessions, participants return to PSC with a final week dedicated to feedback and reflection on the learning experience. This blended approach ensures that officers not only gain theoretical knowledge but also practical exposure and diverse perspectives.

Facilitators and resource persons of the CWMDT Investigations Workshop with some participants

The “Foundational Counter Weapons of Mass Destruction Terrorism (CWMDT) Investigations” workshop was held from February 11 to 15, 2024. This workshop was organized by the US Department of State’s Office of WMD Program, in collaboration with the US Embassy in Dhaka. The program focused on equipping law enforcement officials with the skills and knowledge necessary to investigate and counter threats related to weapons of mass destruction (WMD) terrorism. Participants were trained on the foundational aspects of WMD terrorism, including detection, response, and investigative techniques, with the goal of enhancing their capabilities to manage such threats effectively.

INTERPOL Policing Capabilities Programme (IPCP)

The INTERPOL Policing Capabilities Programme was conducted from March 4 to 7, 2024, organized by INTERPOL in collaboration with the National Central Bureau (NCB) at the Police Headquarters in Dhaka. This program aimed to enhance the policing capabilities of participants by providing them with the tools and knowledge necessary to engage effectively with INTERPOL’s global network. The training covered key areas such as international cooperation, the use of INTERPOL’s databases, and best practices for cross-border law enforcement, helping to strengthen the participants’ ability to tackle transnational crime.

INTERPOL also organized the “Soteria Border Management Training & Field Operation” from the 4th to the 7th of March. This training focused on enhancing border security and management through practical field operations. Participants were trained in advanced techniques for detecting and preventing cross-border crimes, utilizing INTERPOL’s resources, and implementing effective border management strategies. The program aimed to strengthen the capacity of law enforcement personnel in managing border security challenges, ensuring a coordinated and effective response to transnational threats.

The IPCP and Soteria Border Management Training & Field Operation programmes were simultaneously held at the College. Bangladesh Police personnel received the trainings under close supervision of NCB, PHQ and INTERPOL. These programmes aided the journey of capacity enhancement of our police in order to have effective roles in the global law enforcement mission for a safer and more secure world.

PSC obtains ISOQAR certification

Rector, PSC and senior faculty members at the formal certificate handover ceremony

Acquiring the ISO 9001:2015 certification marks a significant milestone for the Police Staff College Bangladesh, setting it apart as the first training institution within the Bangladesh Police to achieve such international recognition. On May 26, 2024, a meeting was held in the college's conference room to commemorate this prestigious accomplishment. As one of the few educational institutions in Bangladesh to have obtained ISO certification, this achievement underscores the college's commitment to maintaining high professional standards. Moving forward, it is essential to sustain this level of excellence and to develop the skills necessary for operating effectively on an international scale.

Location of Campus

The PSC campus sprawls across 19.5 acres of land adjacent to Shahid Police Smrity School & College and POM (Public Order Management) on the Mirpur Road at Mirpur-14, Dhaka. It is located between Mirpur Circle 10 and Dhaka Cantonment. With its open fields, tranquil waterbody and well-kept premises, the PSC campus is a pleasantly scenic location in the heart of Dhaka metropolis. It offers an oasis of refreshing comfort and a soothing breathing space amidst the hustle and bustle of the capital.

Police Staff College Bangladesh began its formal journey in 2000 with the vision "To Maximize Human Welfare through Quality Policing." In 1998, the idea of a separate police training and research institute was floated and within a few years, the idea was implemented. The Police Staff College Act was enacted in 2002, and since then, it has been governed by a Board of Governors chaired by the Honorable Home Minister. PSC works under the umbrella of Ministry of Home Affairs. The Rector is the chief executive of the institution.

Police Staff College Bangladesh conduct courses for participants, in particular senior police officers, to raise awareness about new ideas, thinking, perception, insight and vision in response to changing needs of the society. The institute endeavors to improve managerial capability, enhance operational performance, upgrade leadership skills and critical thinking of the participants, in the context of the national and international scenario.

PSC offers academic degrees and is working in the sectors of education and research. In July 2016, PSC introduced its first ever professional Masters course titled "Master of Applied Criminology and Police Management". A set of dedicated staff members of PSC are engaged in pursuing its academic endeavors and conducting in-depth research across a range of social, criminological, security, counter-terrorism and other policing issues.

PSC is delighted to work with the country's eminent personalities including experienced police leaders, renowned academicians, scholars, bureaucrats, lawyers, defense service personnel, in advancing its goals. Over the year, PSC has also been successful in building international linkages. It works together with various foreign partner organizations, international development partners and renowned academic institutions from across the world. PSC strives to uphold its motto, "Endeavour for Excellence", in all its activities and aspires to become a regional "think tank" for police officers of Bangladesh and beyond.
